FRANCO CASTS HIS LOT WITH DUCE, HITLER

Hopes Of Britain, France to End Foreign Intervention Are Jeopardized

By TAYLOR HENRY
Associated Press Foreign Staff
PARIS, Aug. 17.—Spanish insurgents were reported today definitely to have cast their lot with Italy and Germany, perhaps thereby jeopardizing hopes of Great Britain and France to withdraw foreign volunteers from the civil war.

While insurgent General Franco's answer to the British plan for sending volunteers to fight in Spain remained a secret, insurgents in Paris predicted the terms may mean the end of the non-intervention scheme designed to end foreign participation in the civil war.

The Spanish government on July 23 accepted the plan which provides for a census of the volunteers and their arms.

Non-Intervention Plan in Spain Hit Death Blow

Decree Ends Powers of General Franco's "Personal Foreign" Minister and Closest Adviser is Removed

PARIS, Aug. 17.—The non-intervention committee's plan to withdraw volunteer soldiers from Spain's war has received what may prove to be a death blow in a decree at Burgos, the insurgent capital. The decree ended the powers of General Franco's "personal" foreign minister.

Despatches from the insurgent capital said shortly before the insurgent reply to Great Britain's note on the withdrawal plan was handed British ambassador at Burgos today a decree was signed by the garrisoning minister's "personal" adviser.

Joe Antonio De Sangro, who has been General Franco's closest adviser on foreign affairs since the war began, was removed from the insurgent staff and put under the orders of Count De Jugo, Burgos cabinet and Sangro's bitter rival.

No indication of the contents of the insurgent reply to the proposal to withdraw volunteers was given.

Insurgent sources in Paris, however, interpreted Sangro's ouster as meaning the answer was either flatly negative or as heavily qualified with conditions as to be tantamount to a rejection.

These circles said Sangro, who

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—Hon. J. L. Halsey missing his train through today's cabinet meeting was from a Montreal plane this afternoon by the R.C.A.F. He will catch the Ocean Limited at Montreal and continue his journey to Halifax and other parts of Nova Scotia.

All members of the present cabinet have now been sold on the newer mode of transportation. Ten years ago none of them flew, now they fly on every occasion.

The minister of transport holds the record for going up in the air oftenest and staying the longest. Hon. T. A. Cresser, minister of mines and resources, runs him a close second.

Hon. Ian MacKenzie, with the development of the Royal Canadian air force and the provision of landing fields from coast to coast will make his future in aviation by air.

It is probable that cabinet

Edmonton Race Patrons Throng Exhibition Track

Edmonton's race patrons will throng to the Exhibition track Wednesday afternoon for the opening of the fall race meeting despite threatening weather.

Overnight rain made it necessary to re-examine the proposed race card for the Wednesday afternoon session. The card, however, is being dropped from the card. All other seven races have attracted good entries and patrons are assured of excellent sport.

With the track long-hot players will be looking for upsets, but as the seven races carry their quota of well-known multi-winning horses, form players should have a real day.

DODGE WIDOW FEARED BOAT OF FATALITY

Young Bride Told Danny Dodge Of Aversion Just Before Tragedy

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 17.—The widow of Danny Dodge, who was killed today from a hospital car, had told her husband a few hours before his death that she never again would ride in the motorboat from which he leaped into the waters of Georgian Bay and was drowned.

Mrs. Dodge said she and her husband had been married 13 days ago. She had taken a trip in the boat to Little Current, Ont., on Thursday for their summer place only two hours before a dramatic explosion which injured Dodge critically.

Dodge was drowned, however, and she was frightened from the boat being used to take her to the hospital. She was injured in the blast to Little Current.

WAS FRIGHTENED

Mrs. Dodge, former George Bay, Ont., telephone operator and wife of a heavy sea running in the navy, said she was frightened, and she was frightened in the craft, capable of attaining a speed of 40 knots.

"I told Danny I would never ride in the speed boat again. And just this morning he said he would take me to the beach."

She described her fear of traveling in the boat. It was Mrs. Dodge who told the police that she had been frightened and that she was frightened in the boat being used to take her to the hospital.

DEBT REFUND IS NOT BEING CONSIDERED

Institution of a compulsory plan of refunding the entire provincial debt of $180,000,000 is not being considered by the government, Hon. R. L. Lewis, provincial treasurer, declared on Wednesday, when asked regarding a rumor to this effect.

"We have no thought of such a plan," Mr. Lewis said.

He declared that such a story was without foundation of any kind.

While the government, since its first session, has expressed no opinion on the subject of a refunding plan, it is not being considered by the government, Mr. Lewis said.

He is already willing to consider refunding the entire provincial debt, but he is not willing to do so at the present time, he declared.

Seven-Point Program Outlined Before Nations Already Jittery Over Hitler's Mobilization.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, last night urged upon all nations the adoption of "a comprehensive program embracing both economic reconstruction and revitalizing of principles which are indispensable for restoration of order under law."

He laid a seven-point program before a Europe made jittery by Chancellor Hitler's mobilization of 1,000,000 men for active maneuvers on the Czech and French borders and President Menzies' declaration Thursday indicating a European year out approaching.

Secretary Hull deliberately chose a moment regarded as crucial in Europe to throw the moral weight of the United States into the arena before it was too late.

In the broadcast speech he addressed himself to a world he said was becoming "smaller and smaller" with the result "it will soon no longer be possible for some nations to ignore and follow the way of force and for other nations to sit the game time to come and wait for the way of reason. All will have to go into one direction and by one way."

BY SHORT WAVE

His speech was sent by short-wave radio to Europe and Latin America and was received virtually by the state department to American diplomatic representatives.

C.C.F. PLANS TO RUN UNDER OWN STANDARD

No "Unity" In Provincial Field Elmer E. Roper Declares

The decision of the C.C.F. convention to maintain strict independence for the party as a political party in the provincial and federal fields, Elmer E. Roper, secretary of the provincial C.C.F., said Wednesday.

"No unity" will be combined by the C.C.F. in this province under its own flag, with no "unity" with other groups, unless they first accept the principles of the C.C.F., he explained.

With the C.C.F. showing such striking success in winning its support, he said, one could not but look for a renewed agitation of "unity" of allegedly progressive bodies, he said.

There is nothing that can so be done, he said, as to have the C.C.F. take a clear-cut step toward a new and better deal for the province, he said.

He said the C.C.F. is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said the C.C.F. is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

Miners At Drumheller Turn Down Proposal For Tax Remission Plan

WORK, WAGES PLAN DEMAND 400 AT MEET

Unanimous Vote Calls For Thumbs Down On Government Proposal

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin: DRUMHELLER, Aug. 17.—Four hundred miners and unemployed, all affiliated members of Drumheller district Trades and Labor council, voted unanimously to demand a work and wage program in place of the existing relief work system at a public meeting held here Monday night.

The meeting turned thumbs down to a proposal from Jack Jones, prominent Social Credit supporter, that they pledge themselves to co-operate with the provincial government on a tax remission scheme which is being considered as being planned for the Drumheller industrial area within the next few weeks.

WAX NARCISTIC
Members of the audience waxed sarcastic at the thought of granting relief in favor of six days work each week for which they would receive $6.00 in purchasing power.

Chairman Tom Mackie suggested that the matter should be held in abeyance until such time as the government made some official statement on the subject.

The resolution was eventually carried by a unanimous vote demanding a work and wage program based on a minimum of six days liquidating improvements for the various mining camps within the valley in addition to road and bridge development. Creation of public parks, reduction of bus fares and similar social reform.

UNITED FRONT

Appeals for a united front of all progressive forces were voiced by the various speakers which included Garfield Graham, representing the C.P.C., Dan Gibson, representing the Communist party, Jack Jones, representing Social Credit, and Chairman T. Mackie, representing the Trades and Labor Council.

Criticism of the government for ordering unemployed miners to accept harvesting jobs or risk being left off relief at a later date in the valley were opening up, was heard from the floor of the hall.

PROVINCE ROAD WORK NEAR END FALLOW STATES

With only six out of 40 projects at present uncompleted, the provincial government highway program will be wound up within the next two or three weeks, providing weather is favorable, according to Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works.

The program as drafted in accordance with the appropriation passed in the legislature at the last session, which totalled $10,000,000 for main highways construction. As this money is now allocated and the work is available, will cease for this year.

The truly likelihood of further work this season, beyond that which is already under way, is in the Jasper highway to the north, dependent upon obtaining Dominion government assistance.

Hon. T. A. Creer, minister of resources, is expected here in the near future and Mr. Fallow expects that a grant will be obtained which will enable grading to be done, especially on the 100-mile stretch from this city west to Kananaskis country. The season will be enough to enable work to be done if a grant is received at an early date.

Despite Objections Made By Ontario and Alberta Premiers

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—Work of the Rowell Commission on Dominion-Province Relations will be completed as planned regardless of objections from some of the provinces. Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared last night.

"It should be made a most valuable report—just what will be needed in dealing with the matter which must be considered at a later date," he said.

The Prime Minister was questioned by the press on the subject of the objections raised by Ontario and Alberta. He said the commission must discontinue its activities.

NOT CONSIDERED

Mr. Mackenzie King said no such move had been considered. There was a possibility the chairman, Chief Justice Riddell of Ontario, might be prevented by ill-health from participating in the work of the report, but the report would be made.

The representative conference referred to by the Prime Minister would be a meeting of dominion and provincial ministers.

While here they discussed other problems with James A. Kinnear, regional vice president of the Trans-Canada Airlines, who has been instrumental in securing many northern improvements.

PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

The two visitors also saw L. E. Drummond, chief manager of the Alberta and North-West Territories, and emphasized the value of the Territories to the nation. Mr. Gibson pointed out that two-thirds of the total area of Canada is included in the northern region.

SAVING SETTLERS

There are now about 2,000 white settlers in the Territories and about 10,000 in the Yukon. Mr. Gibson said that the Trans-Canada Airlines was responsible for many developments in the mining areas that could have taken place at other times.

ASSORBING MAN

Discussing reports of unemployment in the north, Mr. Gibson said it was true that some were out of work, but that the Trans-Canada Airlines was trying to absorb as many as possible in productive labor.

May fever is a disease of the blood and general constitution of an individual, doctors say, and not a disease of the eyes or nose. People suffering from this disease have a sensitizing substance called reagin in their blood, and certain pollens from flowers react upon

This substance introduces swelling of mucous membranes. The eyes and nose merely give symptoms of the disease because the mucous membranes are exposed to these poisons. Ragweed pollen is one of those most offending to sufferers, although each person may have a specific pollen to which he is sensitive. Feathers, dust, face powder and many other organic substances may also affect the eyes.

FINE DISPLAY OF BLOOMS IN ALL CLASSES

His Honor Lt.-Governor
Bowen Officially Opens
30th Annual Show

Highlight of the second day, Wednesday, of the Edmonton Horticultural Society Exhibition, will be the presentation of prizes and trophies by Acting Mayor Alderman Bisset, at 3:30 p.m. in the Riverview Pavilion. The afternoon will be taken up mainly with the children's divisions, which include the making up of displays and designs under the watchful eyes of judges, and the perusing of their decorated vehicles.

His Honor Lieut. Gov. J. C. Bowen declared the 30th annual exhibition of the Edmonton Horticultural and Vacant Lots Garden association officially open Tuesday evening. The exhibition, which runs all day Wednesday and Thursday, is being staged in the Riverview Pavilion, under the direction of W. J. Cardy, president of the association.

In speaking of the exhibition, His Honor congratulated the society on its successful display year after year for the last decade and a half. He told of the great educational value in growing flowers and vegetables, and of the progress made in civilization through the enterprise of a few men.

EXCELLENT YIELD

"As I look around this hall and see the growth displayed, I am reminded of a story which the late Hon. Frank Oliver told me some years ago. The earliest settlers coming north of growing crops. The Mounted Police were stationed at Fort Saskatchewan used to bring the oats needed by them in from Montana, until at last one enterprising farmer planted a few seeds and had an excellent yield. This one instance just goes to show what a little effort and pioneering can do." His Honor made special mention of the roses, and spoke of a friend of his from New York, who was a great rose-grower himself. The friend was amazed at the beautiful bloom cultivated in Edmonton, which was making a name for itself as the "Rose City of the West." He commented several times, that never in all his travels had he seen roses with such color and formation.

HARD TO BEAT

It was only a few years ago that gladioli and dahlias were introduced here. His Honor continued, "For color, beauty and form, they are pretty hard to beat." Concluding his address, His Honor commended the horticulturists of the University of Alberta on the work it has done, in developing various types of fruits, vegetables and flowers which are well suited to the rigorous and unstable seasons to which Alberta is subjected.

COMMUNITY CLASS

One of the most interesting classes of the entire show, which included over 1,400 entries, is that for community work. The Sussex Fellowship won the first prize in this division, for its original display of flowers. The exhibit represented flower garden looking out to the main street. A white arbor is the

Liberal M.P. For North Battleford Is City Visitor

Cameron Ross McIntosh, Liberal member of the house of commons for North Battleford since 1925, was in Edmonton Tuesday on a brief visit to the city. While here, he saw James A. MacKinnon, Liberal M.P. for West Edmonton. Keen interest was manifested by the silver-haired parliamentarian in political developments in Alberta, though he refused to comment on any aspect of public affairs. Mr. McIntosh is president and director of the "North Battleford News" and also director of the national Canadian Weekly Newspaper association. He left Tuesday night for home.

Boy's Leg Broken By Motor Truck

Albert Evanson, 7, of 10216 90 street, sustained a fractured leg when he was run down by a truck in the lane behind his home Tuesday afternoon. Driver of the truck was Larry Zipperstein, 10425 95 street, police claim. They said that Zipperstein said the boy ran out of the yard into the side of the truck, one leg slipping under the rear wheel.

background, with a miniature pool surrounded by a rock garden, giving a charming touch of realism to the display. Dozens of different flowers were arranged complete the scene to win the fellowship trophy. Mrs. E. H. Poiry, 10162 90 street, was in charge of the exhibit.

BEST GLAD IN SHOW

Shading from snow white to deep scarlet and purple, the tall spikes of gladioli are beautiful to behold. The scarlet "J. C. Bann" holds the spotlight, as grown by F. G. Jurgens, 5201 100 street, it was judged the best spike in the show.

For the quality of its flowers and vegetables, the "C. J. Bann" Community league won second in the community display, where only community-grown produce may be used. In two other years, Calder won first place.

BEST ROSE IN SHOW

The best rose in the show was the Sir Henry Seagrave, grown by R. Sheppard, who was won first place for his bowl of roses.

Although it was not up for competition, the display of begonias given by J. T. Bailey, 18116 University avenue caused considerable favorable comment.

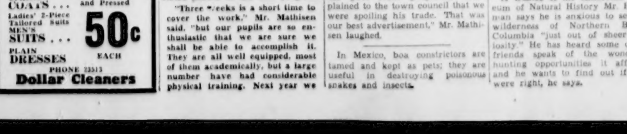

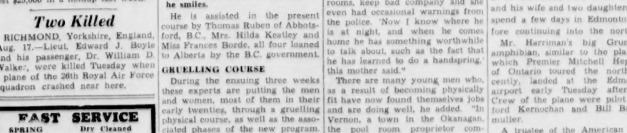

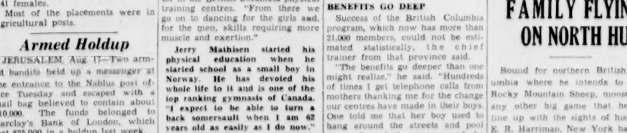

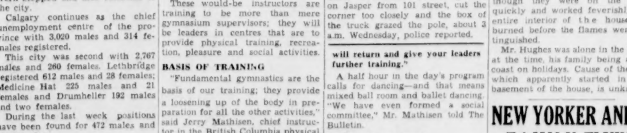

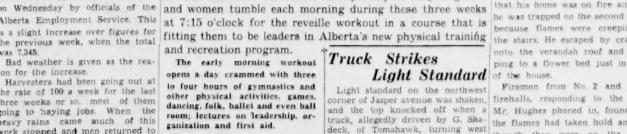

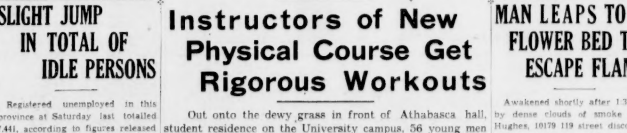

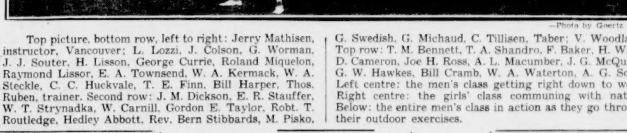

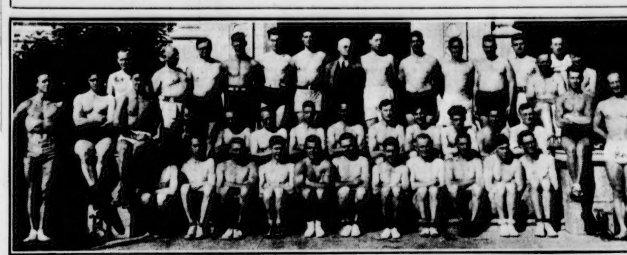

Almost every type of flower shown to Alberta, as well as lovely apples, plums, currants, and other fruits, go to make up the impressive display of the University of Alberta, horticultural branch. Particularly noteworthy is the section of cactus which show several varieties, from the long spiky cactus to the fluffy-looking neobryas with its colorful red berries.

Eight feet of cut blooms, good to make up the picturesque exhibit of R. J. Sheppard, which won for him the Mayor J. W. Fry. Included among Mr. Sheppard's flowers are sweet peas, dahlias, callas, lilies, lily, gladioli, gladioli, dianthus, snapdragons, lupines, stocks, nemesis and dozens of others.

Another individual display which catches the eye is the vast table of vegetables grown by J. Cox of 10122 92 street, which shows everything from beets to squash, in his exhibit of about fifty vegetables.

Heaviest entry in the show is Jack and Drumheller 182 males, who made over 50 entries, in the vegetable and flower sections combined.

Albertans Get Busy In Physical Training Classes

R. J. DEACHMAN LEAVES AFTER SHORT VISIT

R. J. Deachman, Liberal M.P. for Huron North, Ontario, and one of the colorful personalities of the House of Commons, was in Edmonton Tuesday.

Former resident of Calgary and known through the west for his crusades against high tariffs, Mr. Deachman was elected to the House of Commons in 1935.

He first attracted the attention of Ottawa, however, many years ago when he became famous throughout the Dominion as the Ottawa gentleman with an apple.

He went down to Ottawa to give before a committee to protest against the incidence of certain tariff imports upon western Canada. He kept chewing an apple in his mouth through the inquiry, taking time out only to give answers to questions until the committee decided that "the wise men of the east" were not so wise after all compared to this plain-spoken westerner.

Since moving Deachman has continued in the front ranks of Liberals seeking reform of tariff changes. He left Tuesday night via the C.N.R. for the east. While here he met Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Marshall, whom he knew in Calgary, where he was a major, and his colleague in the House of Commons, James A. MacKinnon, Liberal M.P. for West Edmonton.

Hello Cadets!

After yesterday's warning I am sure that you have made arrangements to get the model airplane building kit so that you will be ready to start work immediately on your Jimmy Allen Official Contest Plane, so that you will be able to enter the contest being sponsored by the Edmonton Lions Club on September 1.

Remember that this contest is open to boys in the city and if there are several classes so that everyone will have an equal chance to win one of the valuable prizes that will be offered.

If you haven't built a plane before, don't let that worry you, because everything you need to make the plane with is in the kit and if you follow instructions closely and read this column every day you will be able to make just as good a plane as anybody.

You should get started as soon as possible, too, so that you will have plenty of time to build your plane and plenty of time to learn to fly it.

It takes patience to make a good plane and it takes time to see that every part is made just right. You can't make a good plane in a rush. Then when you get it finished and start to fly it, you may find that little things will be changing, and if you don't get your plane finished until just before the contest you won't be able to make these changes and somebody else will get the prize.

If you haven't entered the contest and get your kit, write at once to Phil Davis at The Edmonton Bulletin—don't phone—and ask for particulars and get your Jimmy Allen plane building kit.

To give those who haven't got their kits yet a chance to get them, we won't start the actual building of the plane for a day or two, but will tell you about the importance of model plane building.

For model plane building is not just a game. It is an important part of the plane for a day or two, but will tell you about the importance of model plane building.

For model plane building is not just a game. It is an important part of the plane for a day or two, but will tell you about the importance of model plane building.

Every airplane factory has its model plane building department, and nearly every pilot and air engineer knows the value of making model planes. In future articles I am going to get some of them to tell you about the importance of the aviation business of model building.

Astute Larry Pros May Come Esks Improve

THE astute Larry MacPhail has drawn something like 800,000 fans through the Brooklyn turnstile this season with an amazing display of showmanship that has major league baseball circles jerking up and taking notice. Among the stunts that Larry has assumed to win fans for the Braves, Dodgers and Yankees are the famous extra, distance, batting contests and so on.

Twenty of criticism has been fired at the MacPhail for using these stunts. The critics say that the stunts are a distraction from the game and that they are a waste of money. They also say that the stunts are a distraction from the game and that they are a waste of money.

However, these critics don't mention the fact that MacPhail has hired Babe Ruth at $15,000 a year, or that he has introduced night ball to Brooklyn. These two moves are the real secret of the amazing attendance at Ebbets Field. Night ball makes the game available for tens of thousands of workers who can't get off work at afternoon. Attendance has risen to the point where it is now a matter of a month to make up twice what the Hamiltons started.

The result is that the Dodgers are certain to pay a nice profit this season. Armed with more financial resources, MacPhail will probably go on to make the most of his position as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

U.S. Pro Grids Eye Canada

DON'T be surprised if within the next year or two you witness one of the leading pro football teams of the United States playing professional games on western Canada's grid-iron. The idea has been advanced by the American Football Union, which is the governing body of the National Football League.

The American Football Union is the U.S. pro grid team that is training in August and September. The team is made up of players who are looking for a job in Canada for their training, and who can go to work for spring training. The idea is that the team will get a lot of practice and experience.

Beneath a big business, it is no longer a secret that the Detroit Tigers are a victim of the unappreciative owner of the Detroit Tigers. The Tigers are a victim of the unappreciative owner of the Detroit Tigers.

Walter O. Briggs, Sr., the automobile body builder who came into the ownership of the Detroit Tigers on the death of Frank J. Navin, called Cochrane a "victim of the unappreciative owner of the Detroit Tigers."

The Detroit Baseball Club, itself and Frank Navin, practically were broke when Harry G. Salinger, the Detroit Tigers owner, purchased Cochrane from the Philadelphia Athletics in 1934. Briggs owned the Detroit Tigers for a short time, but he was not the owner of the Detroit Tigers.

Orange Crush Lassies Thump Black and White

Amesbelle Thompson, 14-year-old pitcher, was with the Orange Crush team, turned in a mighty season, full of relief hurling at the Boyle Street diamond as she led her team to a 10-0 victory over Black and White stores in a regular season softball game last night.

Thompson replaced Rose Marlene in the first of the sixth after the Black and White uprising had driven two men across the plate with only one out. Amesbelle pitched the next two batters and tossed the remainder of the game safely, allowing only two hits and one run.

Next game: Tonight, 8:15 p.m. at Renfrew Park. Columbus Club vs. Cardinals.

ARROW BUZZES retained a former hold on their playoff berth, triumphant last night at Renfrew Park by a 4-2 score against the league-leading Army and Navy Cardinals. It was a razzle-dazzle game which resulted in the banishment of one Arrow player and near fistfights between the pitcher and the umpire before the strong arm of the law marched the rowdy Bushby out of the park. In beating the Cards, the Arrows halted the Cardinal win streak at six games.

White Arrows strengthened their second place berth considerably, they must still look back upon the third place Belmonts with much fear. The Belmonts, by performing something close to the impossible, can overhaul the Arrow margin. The Belmonts are two games behind the Arrows with each having three games to play. One of the trio will see them in action against each other. Therefore the Belmonts must win everything before them.

Arrows felt upon Cardinal pitcher in just two innings. Their double strike proved enough to punch across the winning run despite the Cardinals' clutching dice by the Cards. Fred, the Arrows' pitcher, threw a two-run, Bill McGill scoring the first run and Fred Bushby scored on Jack McGill's single. Lou Young, the Arrows' pitcher, scored as Humpries scored. McGill strangled home on Norman Fairburn's triple.

The Arrows played the Cardinals one run in the first as they had scored but their tally paid in the second on the rest of Arrows' misplays.

The Arrows came right back to blast Ralph Morgan's offerings in the fifth. They clubbed Morgan for the same number of hits—three and tallied another two runs. Fred McGill pitched a hitless game, but he was not the pitcher. The Arrows' pitcher, Fred McGill, pitched a hitless game, but he was not the pitcher.

Jimmy Hoyle Downs Thomas Four-Set Match

Play was resumed in the tournament being held on the courts of the Civil Service Tennis Club after being held up over the week-end on account of rain. Jimmy Hoyle once again earned his place in the final of the money singles with a nice four set victory over the indefatigable Allen Thomas. Both players drove hard and play was confined to the baseline though Jimmy took advantage of every opening at the net. He won 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Baseball

Being Secretary Pat. G. Gallier has lined up an excellent opening card. All races have drawn good fields and competition is certain to be keen as many of the horses have never raced here since the exhibition meeting. The balance have had a long rest since the conclusion of the Regina meet.

Of secondary importance to the local race fans are the Lamont Hurdle Handicap and a five-furlong juvenile event. Six have been named for the over-jumpers affair, while nine have been entered for the two-year old dash.

SMALL FIELDS

Three five-furlong affairs have drawn good fields. Best of the short affairs will probably be the third race which has brought together seven western bred winners, namely, The Bid, Nora Lee, Sir Henry, Mortgage Lifter, Token, Peach Bloom and Prince Somers.

The distance affair, the 1-16 mile sixth race has a field of eight which includes the recent victor Mac Macleod, Hapster Jester, Slimbo, Craig Token, Fort Craig and Clear Shot.

U.S. HORSES HERE

Thirteen head of horses which have been racing with good success south of the border are now enroute to Edmonton to compete in the several day meet. With the exception of two which raced here last season all are newcomers to the local track.

Heading the list is Miss Color, a four-year-old filly by Soldier Thomas. She won two of four starts at Phoenix then did exceedingly well in Montana. Her class may be judged by the fact that she raced against such good performers as Don Marcus at Agua Caliente last winter. Also in the list of arrivals is Harry Hunter, a son of the great Gallant Fox, and Maxed Cloud, named Marvel II, which won at Agua Caliente and other southern tracks.

Buster Boy and Genevieve raced here before while Zepher, Lady R. and Roll Home ran at Winnipeg this spring.

FOOTBALL EXPLAINED

By Eric "Eck" Duggan

Following is the eighth of a series of articles on football which Eric Duggan is writing daily for the benefit of fans. They'll come in real handy because of Edmonton entering the Western Canada Rugby Football Conference this fall.

AFTER Tuesday's successful forward pass the Eskimos are now in a scoring zone—first down on Calgary's 25 yard line. This is a great spot for the attacking team, as from here anyone of several scores may be accomplished.

However the boys will find that the closer they get to the opposing goal line, the tougher and more concentrated the defence becomes.

The quarterback calls two successive scrimmage plays, but the Eskimos fail to move the ball. Nevertheless the quarter has kept his team in the centre of the field and here it is third down and five yards to go.

The field goal signal is called. This play can be executed by either a place kick, one player kneeling holding the ball on the ground to be kicked by another player, or a dropkick may be attempted in which one player drops the ball to the ground and kicks just as the ball rises. To score a field goal the ball must pass between the goal posts and over the cross-bar and counts three points.

The Eskimos decide to try for the field goal by using a place kick. The ball is snapped, placed and boom—over the crossbar it goes for three points. Now we have the Eskimos out in front, 3 to 0.

(Thursday's article will deal with defensive play.)
